FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Two Cities, One Firm - Area Accounting Firms Merge
Freeport and Rockford firms unite to expand services within local communities

FREEPORT, Ill., January 15, 2015 – Just in time for tax season, Beggin Tipp Lamm LLC, of Freeport, Ill., and Weinberg & Co., of Rockford, Ill., have completed their merger. On November 3, 2014, the two acclaimed accounting firms began the transition that united both businesses. The combined firms will operate under the name Beggin Tipp Lamm LLC.

“Weinberg & Co. has very experienced personnel in Rockford, and has built a reputation of delivering quality service.” said Luke Beggin, managing partner of the Rockford office. “This is a great opportunity for both firms to continue growing, and more importantly it allows us to expand a wide range of services throughout our communities.”

Founded by Steve Weinberg, Weinberg & Co. had been a full service CPA firm providing audit, tax, business consulting and accounting services for both individuals and businesses for more than 25 years. The firm’s experience with specialized audits provides a strong opportunity for Beggin Tipp Lamm LLC to strengthen services throughout northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin.

“I am very excited about expanding our services for our clients, and I couldn’t think of a better way to do it than merging with Beggin Tipp Lamm,” said Steve Weinberg. “It pulls together a vast amount of professional experience and increases our ability to provide clients of any size the best service possible.”

Albert Tipp, Richard Lamm and Beggin have grown their firm to over twenty employees since their humble beginning in 2010. Beggin says that all personnel of Weinberg & Co. will continue and there are plans to add more to the staff within the year.

“Job growth is one of the most important aspects of the merger,” Beggin said, “We, along with Steve, agree that we want to continue creating opportunities throughout our communities.”
